Playing fun games.

Challenging each other in fun races.

They even had a fun tug of war. Ending in a draw.

They had been working on a kite. The adults thought they were flying it today.

The kite went with them but they were going to finish it on their trip.

The adults loaded up for their trip in the sand.

There were other kids flying kites. Not theirs. Not today.

They built a grand castle instead.

They also enjoyed a fun picnic on the beach. A perfect end to a perfect day.
